A Story From Our Vice President

A Story

In the beginning God created heaven and earth, that was the first day.

On the second day He created man and woman, then decided He needed a break so He created a Ford, a Chevy, gas, and roads.

Then He realized if He took some Chevy parts and put them on the Ford things got more interesting, so He created a garage and a parts store.

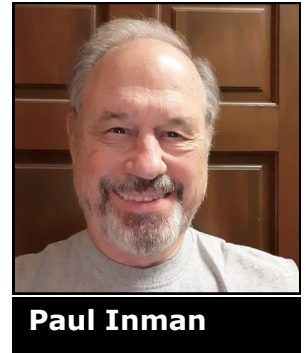

Then Mrs. God got upset because God was always at the parts store and not getting on with His work, so She created UPS and FedEx to deliver parts.

Then God created summer for car shows and cruising.

Mrs. God created winter to get Him back to business.

Paul Inman

Then man eats an apple and creates the Datsun.

God realizes that man has gone astray so He decides to get back to working on creation. and on the third day.....

And that is why cleanliness, and hot rods, are next to Godliness.

Cleanliness is next to godliness.

Lemon Rhubarb Bars

Sweet crunchy crust with a tart filling makes these lemon rhubarb bars deliciously sweet, yet tart. Warning: they are also highly addictive!

By Readr4evr

Cook: 1 hr
Additional: 20 mins
Total: 1 hr 40 mins
Prep: 20 mins
Servings: 24
Yield: 1 12x9-inch pan

Ingredients

Crust:

- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup unsalted butter
- ½ cup white sugar

Filling:

- 4 eggs
- 1 cup white sugar, or to taste
- 6 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 cups chopped rhubarb, or more to taste
- 1 cup shredded coconut
- 6 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Directions

Step 1

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C).

Step 2

Mix 2 cups flour, butter, and 1/2 cup white sugar together in a bowl until crumbly; press into the bottom of a 12x9-inch baking dish.

Step 3

Bake in preheated oven until crust is light brown, 25 to 30 minutes.

Step 4

Beat eggs, 1 cup sugar, and 6 tablespoons flour together in a bowl until smooth; add rhubarb, coconut, lemon juice, and vanilla extract and stir to coat. Pour the rhubarb mixture over the crust.

Step 5

Bake in preheated oven until the fruit layer is set, 35 to 40 minutes. Let bars cool completely before serving.

Cook's Notes:

Depending on how much you like the taste of rhubarb, you can add more sugar or even less. If you don't like rhubarb add two cups of sugar.

Tips

The coconut can be a bit stringy so put into a food processor to chop into finer pieces, if you'd like. This option can also be applied to the rhubarb for a smoother consistency overall.

Perfection Tire

Proud Sponsor of the Gents Auto Club

In 1962, Perfection Tire opened the doors of their first store located at 604 E. 2nd Avenue, Spokane, Washington under the name of Perfection Retreading. As technologies changed so did the tire business. Soon retreads were not the product of choice. The radial tire took over the industry, and Perfection Retreading was there to meet the demands of its customers. With the changes in technology Perfection Retreading changed its name to Perfection Tire in order to reflect the current market. In the late 70's the decision was made to become a full service automotive store. In 1985 the company's name was changed to Perfection Tire and Auto Repair.

Today, Perfection Tire has 17 locations in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho. We offer great tires from Cooper, Nokian, Starfire, Westlake, Milestar, and ProMeter. We are still driven to give our customers the type of Hometown Attention they deserve. Each store is operated by individuals who know what it takes to make sure that your car is serviced to the highest possible standard. (EDITOR'S NOTE: OUR SPONSOR IS LOCATED AT 9602 N DIVISION) owners. Some of the business owners started at the bottom cleaning stores or mounting tires, but because Perfection Tire promotes first from within, they now own the businesses at their locations. What an outsider may not see is the sense of "Family" that exists because of the long tenure that many of our employees have in common. Perfection Tire is excited that a 2nd generation of ownership has begun.

The structure of Perfection Tire is unique in the tire industry. The store locations are individually owned and incorporated. Most owners have many years in the Perfection Tire system. Please see individual store pages for more information on present

Dodge Confirms Hornet Plug-In Hybrid SUV, Promises Electric Muscle Car Soon

Dodge boss, Tim Kuniskis spilled the news, so it's legit.

Article by Miguel Cortina-writer;
Alexander SToklosa-Illustrator |
April 8, 2022

The Dodge Hornet is set to return to the U.S. market. According to a report from The Detroit News, Dodge CEO Tim Kuniskis confirmed the Hornet will be the next vehicle to join the Dodge lineup, and it will be revealed this August during the automaker's speed week festivities. Previously, Dodge had trademarked the Hornet name in Canada, the U.S., and Mexico.

Though Kuniskis declined to comment on where the Hornet will be produced, leaked factory images reveal the Dodge Hornet could hail from Europe, specifically from Alfa Romeo's Pomigliano d'Arco Assembly Plant in Naples, Italy. That photographic hint suggests the Hornet will be a rebadged Alfa Romeo Tonale plug-in hybrid SUV. While the Tonale is set to launch this summer in the U.S., the Hornet could arrive on our shores early next year.

While details of the Hornet are scarce at this point, we know it will look nothing like the 2006 Dodge Hornet concept, or the original AMC Hornet. It's unclear whether we will also get a non-plug-in-hybrid gas variant. The Tonale will be available with a 1.3-liter turbo four-cylinder engine mated to a 90-kW electric motor and a 15.5-kWh lithium-ion battery, a combo delivering 272 hp total. The more powerful mill is a 2.0-liter turbo-four that drops 256 hp and 295 lb-ft of torque to all four wheels. The Hornet could arrive with an identical powertrain setup.

With supply chain issues triggering delays across the industry, the Hornet's debut or on-sale date could be pushed back, of course.

Electric Muscle Car Concept Is Coming

Like we reported last year, Dodge is going electric, and the first taste of that will be an EV muscle car concept set to debut later this year. Car and Driver reports the electric car will use the "eMuscle" name, and it will be on sale in 2024.

To make up for the brand's lively Hemi V-8 exhaust sounds that'll be missing from the eMuscle car, Kuniskis and his team are developing a sound that Stellantis CEO Carlos Tavares described as "shocking." Dodge's electric muscle car will be able to make donuts and burnouts like the current Challenger, and earlier teasers for the vehicle suggest it'll be all-wheel drive yet still capable of such juvenile tire destruction. This move is said to appeal to Millennial buyers, and although no one outside of Stellantis has heard this sound, we're curious if it will be anything like the Hellcat.

The 23' Dodge Hornet has been spied completely undisguised on the factory floor as a rebadged Alfa Romeo Tonale. The crossover will come equipped with the automaker's latest UConnect 5 infotainment system and it will be offered with a 256 hp 2.0L turbocharged four-cylinder engine
